

Tuesday, August 8, 2006

09:00-12:00

Hall E

Special Focus Symposium on the Applied Psychology of Values, Ethics, and Management in Organizations

Chairs: Professor Robert J. Taormina, University of Macau, Macau, China
Prof. Jennifer H. Gao, Macao University of Science & Technology, Macau, China

Developing a Model for Individual Value Changes in Response to Social Change

by Prof. John Blenkinsopp, University of Newcastle upon Tyne Business School, UK

Do Chinese Values Affect Supervisors' Acceptance of Performance Appraisal Criteria?

by Prof. Jennifer H. Gao, Macao University of Science & Technology, Macau, China

Cultural Orientation and Attitudes on the Way to Blow the Whistle: A Comparison of Turkey and South Korea

by Prof. Heungsik Park, ChungAng University, South Korea and Prof. Mustafa Kemal Oktem, Hacettepe University, Turkey and Prof. Ugur Omurgonulsen, Hacettepe University, Turkey

A Comparative Analysis of Ethical Leadership in Ireland, Germany, and the United States

by Prof. Christian J. Resick, Florida International University, USA and Prof. Gillian S. Martin, Trinity College, Ireland and Prof. Mary Keating, Trinity College, Ireland and Prof. Marcus W. Dickson, Wayne State University, USA

The Effects of Individual Differences, Perceived Distance, and Hierarchical Status on Ethical Decision Making

by Prof. Robert J. Taormina, University of Macau, Macau, China and Prof. Kranti V. Toraskar, University of Macau, Macau, China