

Tuesday, July 31, 2007

9:00 – 17:00

Hall D

The 3rd International Joint Symposium on Urban Revitalization & Digital Architecture

Chair: Professor Greg Andonian, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada

Co-chair: Craig Anz, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL, USA

Urban Renewal & Heritage Re-evaluation: A Living Tradition

by Greg Andonian, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada

Heritage Development and Urban Conservation -

Traditional Urban Housing Typology in Hanoi: The Tube Houses

by Stacy Kidd, Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, IL, USA

A Spatial Configuration Study of Urban Fabric: Incorporating Digital Simulation Technologies within Design Scenarios

by Benjamin Dockter & Craig Anz, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL, USA

Connecting Communities: The Creolization of Horizons

within an Urban Regeneration Scenario for Post-Katrina New Orleans

by Craig Anz, Patricia Thurmond and Michael Brazley, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL, USA

LUNCH BREAK 12:00 – 14:00

Buddhist Architecture: Overview, Origins, Inspiration, Manifestations

by Brian Sinclair, Faculty of Environmental Design, University of Calgary, Alberta, Canada

The Coordinates of Thought: The Space of Problems and the Space of the Virtual in the Digital Design Theory

by John Cirka, School of Architectural Design, Ryerson University, Toronto, Ontario, Canada

Building Sensory Interaction

by Ryan Lawber, Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, IL, USA

High-Tech Cutting-Edge Destructive Technologies

by Liza Medek, Architect, ITA, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada

Roundtable Discussion